Let me start by saying thank you for making time for us. First priority for us is to not interfere with the clean-activities.

We do not require a site tour. Maybe later when you are not bombarded with visitors and it's convenient, sure. But our objective is to conduct interviews.

We have a team meeting in the morning. Can I schedule personnel interviews through you? How about interviews of contract personnel?

Thank you for your assistance.

Dan

We are around and have a scheduled visit from the State AGs from CO and UT (and maybe NM). There is very limited capacity for personnel for site tours and we need to make arrangements ahead of time. After tomorrow afternoon, the road will be under construction and the mine site may not be available for some time (hours, days??) If you just want to interview Steve or myself we can talk about scheduling. The AGs are coming around noon to the site and we expect to spend 3 plus hours on the tour. There is no cell service up in this area so we will be out of contact all afternoon.

I will be around in the morning if you wish to call, but am heading up to Silverton around 9:30.

Thanks

Evening sir,

Some of the flights in were initially diverted due to cross winds. Waiting on their arrival now.

What might availability be looking like for tomorrow?

Dan, I had heard you were coming to the site today but didn't hear from you. Are you planning a site visit and meeting with EPA in the near future? We really need to schedule in advance because of site logistics.

Thanks.

Thank you, sir.

I sent an email to Mr. Way, so hopefully he can provide additional names.

Sorry for not responding as I was hoping someone with more information would respond. EPA was represented by Hays Griswold, OSC. Our contractors had several representatives on site, I believe from both START and ERRS. Colorado Division of Reclamation and Mine Safety had representative(s) on site that day but we're not at the mine site when the water release occurred. Hays or maybe Steve Way will have to answer more.

Thanks

Good afternoon Gentlemen,

I spoke with Shaun on the phone just before he boarded his flight from Durango back to Denver. Among the questions I posed to him was the contract number associated with the assessment of the Gold King Mine. He did not have that information off the top of his head. He mentioned both of your names during the call as being/having been onsite. By any chance do either of you know the contract number under which the assessment was being completed?

Thanks.
